

THE POP PRINCESS IS BACK!

MTV VIEWERS GIVE POP DIVA BRITNEY SPEARS THE ULTIMATE ACKNOWLEDGEMENT AS SHE CLAIMS THREE MOONMEN AWARDS INCLUDING BEST VIDEO OF THE YEAR AT THE "2008 MTV VIDEO MUSIC AWARDS. DON'T COUNT THIS POP PRINCESS OUT BECAUSE SHE IS BACK! BY DENNIS A. AMITH

Just forget Britney Spears performance at the "2007 MTV Video Music Awards".

Because it appears that MTV viewers have.

With so much pre-hype about Britney Spear's appearance at this year's "2008 MTV Video Music Awards" which was held at the historic back lot at the legendary Paramount Pictures Studios in Los Angeles, the event was indeed a magical place and served as a magical night for Britney Spears.

Britney Spears won three major moonmen awards with "Best Female", "Best Pop Video of the Year" and "Video of the Year" awards for "Piece of Me".

Not only was her opening appearance to an audience a shining moment with a standing ovation, but her overall appearance and demeanor was simply elegant and she handled her self with integrity that night.

The return of the pop princess?

Most definitely. For the past few years, we have watched the life of Britney and her family under public scrutiny and last year's performance at the 2007 MTV Video Music Awards was not exactly the pop princess that many have been accustomed to watching for so many years. But that is the past.

But for the most part, many expected her as the underdog for "Best Female Video" as Katy Perry's "I Kissed A Girl" and Rihanna's "Take a Bow" were so dominant in the music charts.

Let alone "Best Pop Video" as Jonas Brothers, Tokio Hotel, Danity Kane and Panic at the Disco were also major contenders.

But for "Video of the Year", the competition was fierce with the Jonas Brothers "Burnin Up", Chris Brown's "Forever", Pussycat Dolls "When I grow Up" and The Ting Tings "Shut Up and Let Me Go" going for the coveted award. Britney Spears "Piece of Me" was among the top 5 but did she have a chance?

In the end, it was definitely Britney Spears night. Winning three major award categories.

It was the comeback that viewers especially her fans, really wanted to see.

With MTV giving viewers to participate in the awards show by giving them the opportunity to help decide this year's nominees.

In the end, the viewers have decided that they want their pop princess back.

And if the "2008 MTV Video Music Awards" is any indication, Britney Spears is back! ■
